

ISPN 2021 Annual Conference

March 23-25, 2021 · Brought to you virtually

The ISPN Board of Directors and the Conference Committee are pleased to welcome you to our 23rd Annual Conference entitled, “Resiliency in Action: Advocating for Healthy Communities.” This conference will provide an opportunity to connect, practice self-care, learn about current evidence-based practices, and discuss ways to advocate for healthier communities. Regardless of what role you aspire to or maintain, as an advanced psychiatric mental health nurse, we hope you enjoy this year’s program. We offer a wide range of presentations that fall into the broad categories of education/teaching pedagogy, evidence-based practice, research, psychopharmacology, and leadership in the United States and abroad. We are excited to hear from our diverse and prominent slate of keynote speakers who will be addressing a broad array of topics that are current and relevant to our field. Our virtual platform provides the valuable opportunity to potentially earn up to 24.75 hours that can be used for obtaining and maintaining certification with credentialing organizations.

Our offerings of yoga and healing circles are scheduled daily throughout the conference. These offerings provide an opportunity to link the program themes with relevant dialogue and reflection. Additionally, there are built-in opportunities for networking for current and future projects. We view the annual ISPN conference as a time of renewal and growth, a way to initiate and strengthen professional relationships, and a forum for ideas that will advance our profession and discipline.

As we reflect on the unique opportunities available to members and guests of the International Society of Psychiatric Nursing’s Annual Conference, we are proud to stand behind the mission of the organization: “to support advanced-practice psychiatric-mental health nurses in promoting mental health care, literacy, and policy worldwide.” We encourage you to reflect on how your lifework aligns with this mission.

Julie and I extend a big thanks to the members of the Conference Committee and all the staff at The Rees Group who have worked diligently to offer this virtual conference. We truly hope that you enjoy your time.
